

Southeastern Soundings

The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee has named Hal Cato as its new CEO. A longtime nonprofit executive, Cato most recently was CEO of Thistle Farms.

The Community Foundation of Sarasota County has appointed Dr. Laura Mattia, a certified financial planner, to its board of directors. The foundation has also hired Tracey McIntosh as vice president of finance and Jamie Kattrein as director of community impact.

Three new program officers have joined the staff of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation: Alexandria Jones, who previously worked at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Eniris Riddick, who served as executive director of FaithAction International House, and Tiki Windley, who comes from the Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention with the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she was a program compliance specialist.

Stephanie Garry Garfunkel has joined The Community Foundation for Northeast Florida as vice president of strategic communications. She comes to the foundation from Impact Florida, where she worked as director of knowledge management and communications.

The Black Belt Community Foundation has hired Jamie M. Lewis as finance director. She previously worked as business officer for the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

Nadine Marsh-Carter has been named president of The Cameron Foundation. She previously led the Children's Home Society of Virginia.

Charles Lucas has been named chair of The Duke Endowment's Board of Trustees. An 18-year trustee, Lucas is general counsel and chief compliance officer of Elevation LLC, VP Research, Inc., and Prodeo Asset Management, LLP. Shaheen Towles has also joined The Duke Endowment staff as its new associate director of communications. She previously led communications for the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation. Finally, Christina DiSalvo has joined the staff as a program officer. She previously worked as an implementation specialist with The Impact Center at UNC Chapel Hill's Frank Porter Graham Child Development Institute

Brandon Baird has joined the Community Foundation of Henderson County as a program officer. A native of the region, he previously spent over four years at The Denver Foundation in Denver, Colorado, as an engaged philanthropy officer.

The Arthur M. Blank Family Foundation has appointed Natane Eaddy as senior program officer for youth development and Lisa Zook as senior officer for effective philanthropy. Eaddy previously worked for The Annie E. Casey Foundation, while Zook co-founded Informed International, a strategy and evaluation consulting firm based in Seattle.

Hal Cato

Dr. Laura Mattia

Jamie Kattrein

Tracey McIntosh

Alexandria Jones

Tiki Windley

Eniris Riddick

Stephanie Garry Garfunkel

Jamie M. Lewis

Nadine Marsh-Carter

Charles Lucas

Shaheen Towles

Christina DiSalvo

Brandon Baird

Natane Eaddy

Lisa Zook